Oceanids ~ Sounding Board—Thursday, May 1, 2014

"Making Cities Healthy and Bioregionally Resilient" Keith Pezzoli

Director of Field Research and Lecturer in Urban Studies and Planning Program, UC San Diego

This presentation describes a new integrated approach to dealing with modernity's mounting social, economic and ecological problems. The focus is on the San Diego-Tijuana city-region; especially how we deal with food and water security. The presentation introduces the concept of bioregionalism. Bioregional theory and action aims to enable human communities to live, work, eat and play sustainably within earth's dynamic web of life. At the heart of the matter is this core guiding principle: Human beings are social animals; if we are to survive as a species we need healthy relationships and secure attachments with one another and with the land, waters, habitat, plants and animals upon which we depend.

Sounding Board is a series of seven lectures during the academic year, the first Thursday at 12 noon, sponsored by UC San Diego Oceanids and the UC San Diego Faculty Club. Oceanids, faculty and friends meet at the UCSD Faculty Club in a specially designated room to eat lunch and listen to fascinating speakers. Beginning March 1, 2014, lunch will be $14.00 for guests and $10.00 for Faculty Club members (purchase required). Coffee and ice tea are provided in the meeting room. A parking permit can be obtained at the front desk. You can be sure of a lively discussion! You do not need to RSVP. Contact Judy Vacquier, jvacq@sbcglobal.net for more information.

Bidding a Fond Farewell to Our Colleague and Friend

From the Office of the Chancellor:

A farewell reception was held for him at the Faculty Club on Wednesday, April 16th. Hundreds of current and former colleagues attended.
