Oceanids/Sounding Board—Thursday, December 5th

Steven P. Erie

Professor of Political Science, Adjunct Professor of History, Director, Urban Studies Program

“Has San Diego Solved its Pension and Fiscal Problems? Reflections on the post-Filner Era”

Ph.D. University of California, Los Angeles, 1975

American Politics, Urban Politics, Public Policy

Erie's research interests include urban politics, public policy, ethnic/racial politics, and American political development. He is the author of four books: Rainbow's End: Irish-Americans and the Dilemmas of Urban Machine Politics, 1840-1985; Globalizing L.A.: Trade, Infrastructure, and Regional Development; Beyond 'Chinatown': The Metropolitan Water District, Growth, and the Environment in Southern California; and Paradise Plundered: Fiscal Crisis and Governance Failures in San Diego. Rainbow's End won best urban book awards from the American Political Science Association and the American Sociological Association. Globalizing L.A. won book awards from Lambda Alpha International Land Economics Society and the Historical Society of Southern California. And, most recently, Paradise Plundered won the best urban book award from the American Political Science Association. He also has written numerous journal articles and book chapters. His current book project is Mulholland's Gift: The Politics and Policymaking of L.A.'s Department of Water and Power. Professor Erie is actively involved in public policy debates on issues of infrastructure, economic development, governance, and public finance. He helped write San Diego's new "strong mayor" form of government; served on the governor's infrastructure commission; and advises public officials, business and community leaders in Southern California on the policy challenges facing the region.

Sounding Board is a series of seven lectures during the academic year, the first Thursday at 12 noon, sponsored by UC San Diego Oceanids and the UC San Diego Faculty Club. Oceanids, faculty and friends meet at the UCSD Faculty Club in a specially designated room to eat lunch and listen to fascinating speakers. Lunch is $13.00 for guests and $9.00 for Faculty Club members (purchase required). Coffee and iced tea are provided in the meeting room. A parking permit can be obtained at the front desk. You can be sure of a lively discussion! You do not need to RSVP. Contact Judy Vacquier, jvacq@sbcglobal.net for more information.
